

THE MISSION OF CHRIST CHURCH is to bring all persons to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ through Word, Sacraments, and instruction, as taught through the Episcopal tradition, that all may know the joy and grace of faith, and to share that grace through outreach.

Nearly two thousand years ago, the men we call the Magi set out on their journey from the East. To say that theirs was a strange journey is an understatement. They did not know where they were going nor why. The terrain they traversed was alien to them. And they did not know what they would find at their journey's end. But they did have the star to guide them, the star which had not only caught their eye but had also fired their hope and expectation.

The Magi made that journey but once. We make it many times in the course of a lifetime. We call the journey Advent. Unlike those Magi, we know our journey's goal: Bethlehem's manger. And we know what we will find anew each time we make that journey. We find the Son of God, the savior of the world, who comes to us not in splendor and glory but in all the humility and weakness of a babe born of woman.

But each year that Advent journey seems to be attended by new difficulties and hardships. That star which once shone so brightly and clearly has become dimmed by a 21st century smog: The crass and calloused commercialization, ennui, and apathy which have crept into the lives of so many; and the uncertainty and doubt that there really is a God who cares for us enough to become one of us in Mary's child. Despite the dimming of that star, however, there are still landmarks by which we can pursue our yearly journey. These landmarks are fixed, unchanged, and abiding; yet ever new, refreshing and renewing. They are the landmarks we find in art and poetry, in Scripture and tradition, in reflection and prayer.

And so we pray as we journey: Father, you have already come near to us in the gift of Christ Jesus, your Son and our brother. Otherwise we would not be waiting, otherwise we would not be looking for the birth of love in our world. The light we await is already shining, the source of the pain of our longing, the small voice which will not let us rest content with what we are. Father, we turn our minds and hearts to you because we are waiting for your coming.
